

Tomcat Tournament Ready To Go

Teams Drafted, Schedule Set.

Kapusta Kow Palace -AP- The Captains were very excited after the selected their teams. "When you have a first pick, it is tough, yes you get the best player, but then, after that pick, technically, you get the 6th and 7th best players, but I am happy and excited to get the games played, should be lots of fun", stated Marauders Captain Nick 'May Day' Lelyk.

Everyone thinks about it, before they fall asleep at night, yes...drinking from the Stanley's Cup. You may get to, at the end of the month.

Tournament Teams, Page Three.....

Throw Back Tomcat Logo
In 1989 The Tomcats looked at this as a logo for the Basketball team, but decided to go with the pink tank tops and black shorts and the name, 'THE FABULOUS THUNDERBIRDS'. Steven Jaworiwsky still has the shirt, and is willing to bring it in some night to show what could have been if he had not taken over from Bob 'the Legend' Skoretz.

Schedule:

- 08:30 Marauders vs. Mets
- 09:00 Stingrays vs. Wings
- 09:30 Full Team Picture
- 10:00 Marauders vs. Stingrays
- 10:30 Mets vs. Wings
- 11:00 Stingrays vs. Mets
- 11:30 Wings vs. Marauders
- 12:00 Championship Game

Tournament Memories 2011

Jingles Jets

The Polka Kings

The Youngbloods

Rocky's Wings

Just a friendly reminder that the tournament is designed for fun and a few beers. What you see on this page is four teams. But really it is one team...one club...one great group of guys...who like to laugh, sip a beer, tell a hockey story and get a little exercise in. So come February 25, 2012, before you go in thinking, you will be discovered by some NHL team, and that this tournament will open up a whole new world to you...it won't. Make sure you have fun, make sure the other guy has fun and make sure you have a D.D. at the end of the day. TOMCATS FOREVER!

Teams Are Ready To Rock n Roll

January 31, 2012, the Captains sat down and picked their teams. David 'Crow' Crawford went first, both his parents, Carol and Alistair Crawford were sitting in the stands, when they called 'Crows' name....."I'm very happy for David", said Alistair, "He is a fine player and a good son". Second over pick was Petrolia's Johnny Salaris with another Petrolia product Lovie Edgar going third. "The Petrolia area has produced some fine hockey players," indicated one scout, "look at Soupy Salars, you don't have to go further then that when you want to see hockey talent". concluded the Scout.

May Day Marauders

David Crawford
Mark Jennings
Louis Koenigsberger
Kevin Kuprowski
Darek Kowalczykowski
Anthony Meloche
Ray MacDonell
Nick Lelyk

Metulynsky Mets

John Salaris
Ken Cribley
Dean Colasanti
Nicholas Wilson
Danny Mesman
Dean Meloche
David Dzibela
George Metulynsky

St. Clair Beach Stingrays

Mike Edgar
Andy Brewin
Michael Jaworiwsky
Vince Vlaminck
Paul Renaud
Paul Corda
Mike Menzel
Stefan Jaworiwsky

Rocky's Wings

Chris Girard
Peter White
Shane Renaud
Stephan Sczewczuk
Victor Ferranti
Matt Yousef
Paul Poisson
Chad Comartin

Interview with Pepperoni Pete – The guy who delivered the Fabled 65 Veggie Pizza's to a Tomcat Hockey Party

Whenever someone new finds out that I deliver pizza, the first thing they usually ask is, "What's your craziest delivery story?" I don't have too many, but here are the ones I usually go with:

- I once had a very drunk dude shout "I love you" as I walked away after giving him his pizza - This guy, a Tomcat. He is not crazy – His name is Lovie - He loves everybody, even when I bring him veggies on a 'za'
- I have seen one penis. The guy had some boxer shorts on with a rip in them. I tried hard not to look - This was some guy named Junior who wanted me to take all the pepperoni off the pizza and stack it up on the table. He wanted to measure if his unit was bigger than all the pepperoni on a party sized pizza
- Some young voluptuous scantily clad women thought it'd be cute if they answered the door in underwear. I could hear them squealing all the way from the driveway when they realized that instead of a pizza dude it was me delivering them pizza. I don't know exactly what they expected, maybe some guy to be bumbling at the door, offer them free pizza, flirt. Maybe they just wanted to be the objects of some guy's "craziest delivery" story - This was at some guy named Snowpants Escort Service Party
- I have been explicitly hit on once. That guy was very drunk. I told him he already knew exactly how to get in touch with me, just order a pizza - This was at a Grade 7 parent/teacher night in Tecumseh.
- I called the cops once on a domestic dispute - Again – A Tomcat guy - I think his wife ordered green peppers on a pizza and he lost it.
- I delivered to a guy who I was warned was "extremely belligerent" and possibly dangerous. He was overly subdued when I got there but between the time I left his apartment and when I got back to the store he had called back three times yelling. One of those times he demanded that we deliver him nothing but bacon – I think the dude's name was the Turk or something.
- The best one yet – I delivered 65 Veggie party sized pizzas to a secret hockey party room on Tecumseh just before the holidays – Those guys were bent. The Windsor tomcats - I got thrown through a glass dor, they tossed my car looking for pepperoni, ground beef and bacon. I have not been back to work since and have filed a WSIB claim for stress. I think this Turk guy was leading the charge. I am afraid to leave my apartment. I won't even go out and buy perogies on Wednesdays. I am scared for my life. I have been cleared for modified work – delivering only meat lovers pizza – I am afraid of vegetables - This may be a permanent condition.