

Tomcats To Hit Rock Bottom

Windsor -AP- The Tomcats will be returning to the scene of the crime, remember Snowpants and his leather pants last year? Well the party is about to begin again my friends and the Tomcats and their very very significant others will be attending Rock Bottom (Upstairs) for a private party. All the Tomcat greats are suppose to be there, Mike Edgar, Johnny Salaris, Dave Crawford, Chad Comartin and of course Andy 'Doc' Brewin. You do not want to miss the party of the Christmas Season. Tomcats next party will be December 17.

Snowpants, Rocking the Joint Out, with 'Have a Drink on Me'.

Expect to see all these characters there! Hollywood Jingles (who is not tuning his air guitars that night and will be there) Lovie, Chevy, La Bamba, Soupy, Sunny and of course fan favourite Snowpants!

Draft is only 48 Days Away

Doc and Stevo will be coming around and asking if you will be playing this year

Expect some incredible action come February 22, 2014. Put your name in to play !
The four Captains are: Kevin Kuprowski , Mike Edgar, Steven Jaworiwsky and Victor Ferranti.
The Draft will go on January 14, 2014. The order of draft will be done on Tuesday December 17, 2013 at the Tomcat Christmas Party. (right after the cool Tomcat gift is handed out by Santa Claus....Ho Ho Ho)

When you get your email to play, sign up that day and get your name on the eligible to be drafted list. Tournament goes Feb. 22, 2014

Fun, but Fierce Action to Come Your Way

The Matador maneuvers around Chico "It's only one of about 34 moves I have, where I get around an opponent with grace and ease". states the Matador

La Bamba makes the first pass out. "The first pass out of your zone is the most important pass you can make in a game, boys and girls" Says the teacher, La Bamba

Snowpants reaches for the ball and hears a snap, crackle and a pop. "Luckily, what ripped were my Italian style underwears and not my nut sack", says Victor 'Snowpants' Ferranti happily.

Beep celebrates a goal, on his way to be a Champion "Always go to the net with your stick on the floor and good things will happen" says a Beaming Ellery Oickle

Tournament to cost $20. Pizza after is $10.

2013 Stanley's Cup Champs
The Chevy Sharks, Rocky,
Chico, Falcon, Beep, Sparky,
Doc, Snowpants and Chevy.
Who will the Champs be this year?

Rocky, Jingles and Chico, run in Detroit Free Press Marathon

Rocky Decided to sign up for the race back in July here is his take on the run: I just wanted to run through the tunnel and over the bridge. Never ran anything but a 5k before. I ran 3 times per week basically since July (one hard 5k, light mid-distance run, long run on Sundays). I got to the start line just 10 minutes before the 7am start time. It was cold, still dark and a little breezy but with 20k plus runners, very exciting. My plan was to start off easy and really soak in the experience. Once at the peak of the bridge, it was time to step it up and hit my target pace (5 minutes per KM).

Funny thing happened on the bridge...my iphone, which I use to listen to music as I run, slipped out of my armband and went bouncing and sliding down the road surface. Lucky it did not break or get stepped on by the other runners. I picked it up and managed to get it back in the armband as kept my pace down the bridge.

Daylight arrived as we came off the bridge and felt awesome running down Riverside drive. Saw Hurricane along there and yelled out to him. Was great hearing "Rocky" on the course.

Rocky tells his story.....

My daughters were on the course in front of the Chrysler building so I stopped to give them a hug and kiss and kept on going.

The tunnel was the hardest part of the race. It is hot down there, and the climb up to the US side is steeper than it appears when you drive through. It was the only time I felt tired and slow. Once back on Jefferson Ave in Detroit, the cool air helped me get back to a comfortable state and I got back on pace.

We ran west through Corktown and enjoyed all the funny signs people held...one said "I don't do marathons but I do marathoners!"

It was great making the turn back on to Fort Street and seeing the finish line with spectators packed along the sides.

I heard my name mentioned as a crossed the line at 1:50. I had a stretch goal of 1:45 but was happy with 1:50 or less so I guess it was a success.

I may run again next year but if so, I will really try to push myself and try to break the 1:40 barrier. No intentions on ever doing a full marathon. That is just crazy.

The St. Felix asked: What did you do after the run, Rocky Replies, "I went looking for the chick that had the sign that said, I don't do marathons, but I do marathoners".